

Topics, issues, questions and places that I hope to research over the next 50 years:

- Knowledge production in Archaeology and Bioarchaeology.
- The social construction of the past.
- Museology and STS: how can we transform museums from colonial institutions into places that help fight social injustices.
- Service dogs as technological apparatuses and companions.
- How dog training techniques mirror theories and strategies of human learning.
- Why and what are the implications of people who work in the judicial system using Botox to mask their facial expressions.
- Archaeology in Peru.
- The scientific idea about breathing in high altitudes, the racial assumptions that come with this idea, and the taboo of coca, one of most used resources to deal with this altitude sickness.